

THE POST

College: College of Life and Environmental Sciences (<http://lifesciences.exeter.ac.uk>)

Post: Associate Research Fellow

Reference No: P45233

Grade: E

Reporting To: Professor Chris Perry, Geography (Exeter) and Dr Tim McClanahan, Wildlife Conservation Society (Kenya)

The above full-time post is available from 1st October 2013 for 24 months in the College of Life and Environmental Sciences.

Job Description

Main purpose of the job:

The postholder will work as part of the team for SPACES, an international collaborative research project funded through the Ecosystem Services for Poverty Alleviation (ESPA) programme. The postdoctoral researcher will take a lead role in the collection and analysis of coral reef carbonate production and ecological datasets across a range of reef sites in Kenya and Mozambique. This will require a close working relationship with project partners in each country. The postholder will have primary responsibility for collecting and analysing quantitative reef biophysical datasets and engage with project partners in using these data to model the links between reef physical and ecological “health” and the flow of ecosystems goods and services to dependant communities.

Main duties and accountabilities:

1. To undertake research as appropriate to the field of study including:
 - Writing up research work for publication;
 - Developing research objectives and proposals for own or joint research;
 - Making presentations at national and international conferences and similar events;
 - Dealing with problems which may affect the achievement of research objectives and deadlines;
 - Analysing and interpreting the results of own research and generating original ideas based on outcomes;
 - Using new research techniques and methods;
 - Using initiative and creativity to identify areas for research, developing new research methods and extending the research portfolio;
 - Using creativity to analyse and interpret research data and draw conclusions on the outcomes.
2. To contribute to teaching and to be involved in the assessment of student knowledge including assisting in the supervision of student projects and in the development of student research skills.
3. To work in collaboration with colleagues as appropriate to the field of study including:
 - Contributing to collaborative decision making within the research group;
 - Contributing to the production of collaborative research reports and publications.

- Preparing papers and presenting information on research progress and outcomes to bodies supervising research, e.g. steering groups.
4. To communicate complex information, orally, in writing and electronically.
 5. To prepare proposals and applications to external bodies, e.g. for funding and contractual purposes
 6. To contribute to the planning of research projects.
 7. To use research resources, laboratories and workshops as appropriate and to take responsibility for conducting risk assessments, reducing hazards and for the health and safety of others.
 8. To monitor research budgets as appropriate.
 9. To engage in continuous professional development and to be responsible for continually updating knowledge and understanding in field of study or specialism and for developing skills.

This job description summarises the main duties and accountabilities of the post and is not comprehensive: the post-holder may be required to undertake other duties of similar level and responsibility. Please visit the Human Resources website to view the Research Fellow role profiles.
