Job Description for Lecturer (E&R)

Main duties and accountabilities

1. To fulfil research, teaching and administration duties as a lecturer in Camborne School of Mines.
2. To extend the research and teaching profile of Camborne School of Mines and related areas, especially in the area of mining and geology, attracting and supervising postdoctorate researchers and postgraduate research students. Mining engineering topics of particular interest include rock mechanics, mining techniques, mine automation, advanced mine design, marine mining and mining environmental management. Geology topics of particular interest include research areas related to increasing numbers on applied and mining geology and to expansion into other areas of geology to complement the introduction of BSc/MGeol Geology in 2014. They include remote sensing, GIS, hydrogeology, sedimentology, stratigraphy, palaeontology, geothermal energy, exploration geophysics and geochemistry, ore deposit geology, mineral resource assessment.
3. To collaborate with colleagues both within the College and the University of Exeter as a whole in order to develop and support research programmes and the College's research programme.
4. To contribute to the general operation of the College as a member of its academic team.

Research

1. To conduct independent research and act as principal investigator and project leader, and in so doing:

Enhance the College's international reputation through research publications of appropriate quantity and quality, and contribute to worldwide debate at national and international conferences, and

Win research earnings through carefully prepared and successful grant applications as well as identifying potential income-generating programmes and collaborative partnerships.
2. To supervise research projects, managing any dedicated research staff and postgraduate research students, and provide the mentorship to enable staff and students to develop their skills and academic careers.
3. To help promote a collegiate working atmosphere and stimulating environment that will attract further research staff of the highest quality as well as good postgraduate research students.
4. To contribute to the further and ongoing development of research in Camborne School of Mines at Exeter.

Teaching

To deliver undergraduate and postgraduate courses to appropriate academic standards such that:

- Knowledge acquired from research translates to teaching
- Students are challenged but also tutored and supported with individual care
- Teaching and learning techniques are innovative and inspiring
- Students are supervised appropriately
- Assessment criteria are appropriate, and fairly applied with results fed back to students appropriately
- Module content is continuously reviewed to identify areas for improvement

General

To contribute to the overall general and academic management in the College by undertaking activities that may be required such as:

- Developing overall academic content and structure of modules with colleagues
- Leading modules and programmes
- Developing ideas for generating income and promoting both the College in general and Camborne School of Mines in particular.
- Supporting admissions processes and procedures
- Supporting examinations processes and procedures
- Contributing to the work of College committees
- Contributing to accreditation and quality control processes
- Contributing to strategic planning

This job description summarises the main duties and accountabilities of the post and is not comprehensive: the post-holder may be required to undertake other duties of similar level and responsibility.

Person Specification

The successful applicant will have an independent research programme that will strengthen and complement the existing team at the University. He/she will be able to demonstrate the following qualities and characteristics:

1. PhD in mining engineering, geology or a related subject
2. Sufficient knowledge of the subject area to develop teaching and research programmes
3. A strong record in attracting research funding, or demonstrable potential to attract such funding.
4. Teamwork skills to work in collaboration with existing group members
5. An active and supportive approach to inter-disciplinary and multi-disciplinary research that will help to foster interactions and links both within the University and externally with other educational bodies, professional institutions and employers
6. The attitude and ability to engage in continuous professional development
7. The aptitude to develop familiarity with a variety of strategies to promote and assess learning
8. Enthusiasm for delivering undergraduate and postgraduate programmes

Pensions

Membership of the Universities' Superannuation Scheme (USS) is automatic provided that you meet the qualifying criteria for membership. The USS is a contracted-out scheme. USS scheme has two sections: Final Salary and Career Revalued Benefits; which section you will be eligible for will depend on any previous membership of USS. An information leaflet concerning the qualification rules for both the sections is enclosed; more detailed information about the USS scheme structure can be found at www.uss.co.uk. IF you have been in USS before, you are strongly requested to contact the Pay and Benefits Office as soon as you can so that possible membership of the Final Salary benefits section can be investigated. The University, as your employer, contributes such sums as will be required to maintain the full benefits of the scheme. You may opt out of the scheme; if you wish to do so, you should contact the Pay and Benefits Manager, Mrs Alison Rose (01392 263088/email a.j.rose@exeter.ac.uk) for further information.

Further information about Pension Salary Exchange is available from the Human Resources website www.admin.exeter.ac.uk/personnel or from the Pensions Office.

Relocation

You may be able to claim relocation expenses in accordance with the University's Relocation Assistance Scheme. The maximum allowance that you can reclaim under the Relocation Assistance Scheme, if eligible, is 10% of salary.

Short-listing Information

We will acknowledge your application by email. The University of Exeter recognises the time and effort taken to apply for a position and will contact you by email to inform you of results of shortlisting

Application Procedure and Interview Information

The closing date for completed applications is Monday 1st July 2013.

Data Protection Act (1998)

The information contained within your application is being requested to enable the University to make employment decisions and meet statutory obligations. Any information provided to the University in this context will be treated confidentially and used only by manager(s), member of the University, Human Resources, Superannuation and Payroll during the course of your employment. Where the application relates to a post which is externally funded this information may be passed onto the relevant funding body.
